

From	Time	To
From Milwaukee	8:30 a. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	1:45 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

From	Time	To
From Chicago	8:30 a. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	1:45 p. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

From	Time	To
From Chicago	8:30 a. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	1:45 p. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

From	Time	To
From Chicago	8:30 a. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	1:45 p. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

From	Time	To
From Chicago	8:30 a. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	1:45 p. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

From	Time	To
From Chicago	8:30 a. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	1:45 p. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

From	Time	To
From Chicago	8:30 a. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	1:45 p. m.	Chicago
From Chicago	5:40 p. m.	Milwaukee
From Milwaukee	6:50 p. m.	Chicago

Hon. C. G. Williams Secures a Position for Mrs. Chisolm—A Commendable Service—A Rebel Spy Reward—Temperance in Washington President—Heads of Departments—Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27, 1880.—The brutal murder of the husband, son and daughter, of Mrs. Chisolm, in Kemper county, Mississippi, for no cause, except that his husband was known to be an inflexible Republican, is still fresh to the memory of all. The barbarity with which her son and daughter were murdered to death, while attempting to save the life of their father, is not surpassed in the annals of Indian savagery. And yet, the murderers go unpunished of justice, shielded by the demon spirit of the people of Kemper county. The trial of the alleged murderers was brought on last fall; it was only a mere farce, a mockery of justice, as all trials of shot-gun assassins are. Mrs. Chisolm found it impossible to remain in Kemper county after the murder of her family; when she returned to appear on the street, clad in mourning, she was met with scoffs and jeers, and told to go home and put on red. After visiting friends, she finally came to Washington by advice; she had no means of support, her property having been destroyed. She was aided in getting employment, but with a compensation so small for the comfort and support of herself and little son, in years of age.

My dear Sir: My promotion cause this morning set to work. I have not only the kind interest you have manifested in my unhappy condition, but more especially for this, because it is the latest.

When the Democrats obtained control of the Senate last March, there was a general turning out of Republican employees in that body, and a substitution of Democrats in their places. The favorite shown to the most notorious of rebels appears from the following statement, which claims to be one reliable authority. A man by the name of Banks came to Washington from the South in 1861, who, it appears, was sent as a spy by Jefferson Davis, in the early part of the war. The mission of Banks was suspected, and the police were set to work to ferret him out. He was found at an obscure house, and ordered to leave instantly. He quickly departed, leaving his effects behind him, crossed over the Potomac to Alexandria, on the Virginia side. This same man since March last, has been provided with an office in the Senate, at a salary of $2500 per year. Verily, it pays for having been a rebel spy, especially where the Democrats have the disposal of the public patronage.

A few weeks ago, when the resolution offered by Senator Voorhees was accepted, for making inquiry into the cause of the colored exodus from the South. Some interest was left in the proposed investigation. But that interest has subsided; no one seems to care what the Voorhees Committee proves, or does not prove. Every school boy of common intelligence, knows the cause why the colored people leave the South. The hundreds of colored refugees, have passed through this city on their way North, all tell the same story; all reliable white men from the South, confirm the statement, that the colored people seek to leave because they are subjected to impossible, and their rights disregarded. The appointment of the Voorhees Committee, incurs a useless expenditure; he might as well well have a committee raised to inquire why the Mississippi river runs its own stream.

Among the reformatory movements in this city, the temperance cause is just now in the forefront. Temperance meetings are held with unusual frequency in various parts of the city. Mrs. Yonamas, a Canadian lady of distinguished reputation, as a temperance lecturer, has been holding daily and nightly meetings, attended with marked success; many hundreds have taken the pledge.

The temperance reform has made decided advancement in Washington since the coming of the present administration. The friends of the reform are largely indebted to Mrs. Hayes, for the radical change which has taken place in the higher circles of society, to the furnishing of wine and other intoxicating drinks, at public receptions, and private parties. Four years ago, wines and other liquors were common at the levees, of the heads of Departments and entertainments given by distinguished families. On New Year's day of the present year, no intoxicating drinks were seen on the refreshment tables of the Cabinet officers, and the same was true of a large majority of the fashionable families. The official foreign residents do not appear as yet to have adopted the practice of abstaining from wine at their receptions.

Rev. Dr. Chickering, of Boston, Secretary of the American Temperance Union, visited this city annually during the sessions of Congress for several years. His mission is to ascertain the status of temperance in Congress; the number of total abstinence members, and the number who in practice are friendly to the temperance cause. It would be too delicate a matter to publish should know the members of the two parties were classified on the temperance question. It requires no skillful guessing to arrive at generalities.

There are in this city about 1,100 places where intoxicating liquors are sold, in a population of 160,000. But in addition to the restricted population, there are always hundreds of strangers, office seekers, and persons of questionable business, looking for something to turn up. Many of these, under the name of "business," are in fact, in the hands of the "liquor traffic." It is a sad state of affairs, and it is a pity that the city of Washington is not more temperate than the average of cities.

From the Detroit Free Press.

"The morality reports of Detroit of any other city in the country, ought to prove a decided advantage to the city," said a Detroit physician, the other day, when speaking of the way women dress.

The best physicians advise warm clothing and proper precautions when advising with a big, rugged man; and men follow this advice and die of cold. This is the case with women. They wear thin, light dresses, and are exposed to the elements. They wear thin, light dresses, and are exposed to the elements. They wear thin, light dresses, and are exposed to the elements.

Hon. C. G. Williams Secures a Position for Mrs. Chisolm—A Commendable Service—A Rebel Spy Reward—Temperance in Washington President—Heads of Departments—Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27, 1880.—The brutal murder of the husband, son and daughter, of Mrs. Chisolm, in Kemper county, Mississippi, for no cause, except that his husband was known to be an inflexible Republican, is still fresh to the memory of all. The barbarity with which her son and daughter were murdered to death, while attempting to save the life of their father, is not surpassed in the annals of Indian savagery. And yet, the murderers go unpunished of justice, shielded by the demon spirit of the people of Kemper county. The trial of the alleged murderers was brought on last fall; it was only a mere farce, a mockery of justice, as all trials of shot-gun assassins are. Mrs. Chisolm found it impossible to remain in Kemper county after the murder of her family; when she returned to appear on the street, clad in mourning, she was met with scoffs and jeers, and told to go home and put on red. After visiting friends, she finally came to Washington by advice; she had no means of support, her property having been destroyed. She was aided in getting employment, but with a compensation so small for the comfort and support of herself and little son, in years of age.

My dear Sir: My promotion cause this morning set to work. I have not only the kind interest you have manifested in my unhappy condition, but more especially for this, because it is the latest.

When the Democrats obtained control of the Senate last March, there was a general turning out of Republican employees in that body, and a substitution of Democrats in their places. The favorite shown to the most notorious of rebels appears from the following statement, which claims to be one reliable authority. A man by the name of Banks came to Washington from the South in 1861, who, it appears, was sent as a spy by Jefferson Davis, in the early part of the war. The mission of Banks was suspected, and the police were set to work to ferret him out. He was found at an obscure house, and ordered to leave instantly. He quickly departed, leaving his effects behind him, crossed over the Potomac to Alexandria, on the Virginia side. This same man since March last, has been provided with an office in the Senate, at a salary of $2500 per year. Verily, it pays for having been a rebel spy, especially where the Democrats have the disposal of the public patronage.

Hon. C. G. Williams Secures a Position for Mrs. Chisolm—A Commendable Service—A Rebel Spy Reward—Temperance in Washington President—Heads of Departments—Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27, 1880.—The brutal murder of the husband, son and daughter, of Mrs. Chisolm, in Kemper county, Mississippi, for no cause, except that his husband was known to be an inflexible Republican, is still fresh to the memory of all. The barbarity with which her son and daughter were murdered to death, while attempting to save the life of their father, is not surpassed in the annals of Indian savagery. And yet, the murderers go unpunished of justice, shielded by the demon spirit of the people of Kemper county. The trial of the alleged murderers was brought on last fall; it was only a mere farce, a mockery of justice, as all trials of shot-gun assassins are. Mrs. Chisolm found it impossible to remain in Kemper county after the murder of her family; when she returned to appear on the street, clad in mourning, she was met with scoffs and jeers, and told to go home and put on red. After visiting friends, she finally came to Washington by advice; she had no means of support, her property having been destroyed. She was aided in getting employment, but with a compensation so small for the comfort and support of herself and little son, in years of age.

My dear Sir: My promotion cause this morning set to work. I have not only the kind interest you have manifested in my unhappy condition, but more especially for this, because it is the latest.

When the Democrats obtained control of the Senate last March, there was a general turning out of Republican employees in that body, and a substitution of Democrats in their places. The favorite shown to the most notorious of rebels appears from the following statement, which claims to be one reliable authority. A man by the name of Banks came to Washington from the South in 1861, who, it appears, was sent as a spy by Jefferson Davis, in the early part of the war. The mission of Banks was suspected, and the police were set to work to ferret him out. He was found at an obscure house, and ordered to leave instantly. He quickly departed, leaving his effects behind him, crossed over the Potomac to Alexandria, on the Virginia side. This same man since March last, has been provided with an office in the Senate, at a salary of $2500 per year. Verily, it pays for having been a rebel spy, especially where the Democrats have the disposal of the public patronage.

Hon. C. G. Williams Secures a Position for Mrs. Chisolm—A Commendable Service—A Rebel Spy Reward—Temperance in Washington President—Heads of Departments—Congress.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27, 1880.—The brutal murder of the husband, son and daughter, of Mrs. Chisolm, in Kemper county, Mississippi, for no cause, except that his husband was known to be an inflexible Republican, is still fresh to the memory of all. The barbarity with which her son and daughter were murdered to death, while attempting to save the life of their father, is not surpassed in the annals of Indian savagery. And yet, the murderers go unpunished of justice, shielded by the demon spirit of the people of Kemper county. The trial of the alleged murderers was brought on last fall; it was only a mere farce, a mockery of justice, as all trials of shot-gun assassins are. Mrs. Chisolm found it impossible to remain in Kemper county after the murder of her family; when she returned to appear on the street, clad in mourning, she was met with scoffs and jeers, and told to go home and put on red. After visiting friends, she finally came to Washington by advice; she had no means of support, her property having been destroyed. She was aided in getting employment, but with a compensation so small for the comfort and support of herself and little son, in years of age.

DRY GOODS

Have just received their Fall and Winter stock of Dry Goods. Our counters are completely crowded and we now want to get rid of them. The best way we find to do this is to sell them cheap. Therefore we call the ladies special attention to our new style of double width Dress Goods called the Momie. These are the latest novelties in fashionable circles, and were the most prominent on exhibition at the late grand openings in Chicago. We sell all the leading colors, plum, dregs of wine, &c., at the low price of 31c, sold elsewhere for 50c per yard. Matelasse and Basket Cloth in all shades, 10c, 12c and 15c per yard. Alpaca in all shades 15c per yard. A nice line of plaid and figured goods at 8c per yard. Our $1 French Cashmere is the best in the world—so the ladies say. French Cambrics one yard wide 9c per yd Standard Prints 5c. Linen Toweling 5c. Table Linen 20c. The best $1 Corset in the city; a nice Corset for 25c. A large assortment of Paisley and double faced India Shawls from $5 to $25. Woolen Shawls from $3 to $8. Blankets and Flannels at reduced prices. Great bargains in Domestic Goods and Notions.

CLOAKS AND CIRCULARS

A large stock of Cloaks, fifty different styles, which we sell at commission at the following prices—A $20 Cloak for $15, a $15 Cloak for $11, and so on down to a nice cloak for $2. Ladies, remember we keep styles and newest designs. Goods trimmed with Silk Cord and Tassels.

McCLENNAN & CO.

Myers Block, Main Street, Janesville, Wis.

aug28dt

Caution.

A WORD TO THOSE WHO USE POROUS PLASTERS. It is a universally acknowledged fact that BENSON'S CAPSINE POROUS PLASTERS ARE SUPERIOR TO ALL OTHERS.

The great demand for them has caused a number of unscrupulous parties to make and sell worthless imitations under the name of Capsicum or Capsine. As the market is flooded with inferior plasters selling at any price it is important for the consumer to know which is the best. It is well known that some of the cheap plasters have been examined and found to contain injurious ingredients which make them dangerous to use, causing paralysis and other diseases. All genuine BENSON'S CAPSINE PLASTERS have the word CAPSINE cut in them. SEABURY & JOHN-SON, Pharmaceutical Chemists, New York. PRICE 25 CTS.

23rdw deod

FROM CHICAGO TO NEW YORK AND BOSTON!

Every Day with-out change of cars.

Only Line East Running the Famous

DINING CARS

Connects at Niagara Falls and Buffalo with the New York Central and Erie Railways.

HENRY C. WENTWORTH, Gen'l Pass'r Ag't, Chicago.

H. B. LEDYARD, General Manager

RAILROAD.

THE 24TH ANNUAL DISPLAY!

WEBB & HALL, JEWELERS.

Have Made Large Additions to their Stock of HOLIDAY GOODS!

Making it the most attractive ever exhibited by them. Prices are lower than ever before.

Cor. Main and Milwaukee Streets.

nov5dt

PRENTICE & EVENSON

HAVE A FRESH STOCK OF

MRS. ALLEN'S HAIR RESTORER,

FELLOWS' SYRUP OF HYPOPHOSPHITES,

SANFORD'S, and WEI DeMEYER'S CATARRH CURES,

MEXICAN MUSTANG and CENTAUR LINIMENTS,

ST. JACOB'S OIL, THOMAS' ELECTRIC OIL,

GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE,

PARKER'S HAIR BALM and GINGER TONIC,

CONSTITUTION WATER, HUNT'S REMEDY,

CUTICURA, CASTORIA, VASELINE,

And all Other Medicines Advertised in this Paper.

PRENTICE & EVENSON DRUGGISTS & CHEMISTS, JANEVILLE, WIS.

OPPOSITE POST OFFICE.

JANEVILLE, WIS.

nov5dt

YOU WILL ALWAYS FIND

A Full Stock of Patent Medicines, Pure Fresh Drugs, Herbs

Chemicals and Dye Stuffs, Strictly Pure White Lead, Mineral and

Chemical Paints, Linseed, Head Light, Kerosene, Machine, Lantern and Neatfoot Oils, Window Glass and Putty. All kinds of

Brushes, Trusses, Shoulder Braces, Supporters, and Chest Protectors, Liver, Kidney, and Stomach Pads.

nov5dt

Humphrey's Homeopathic Specifics.

Infants Food, Nursing Bottles, and Family Syringes, Sponges,

Chemical Skins and Feather Dusters, Home, Office and Family Condition Powders, Liniment

Outments, Salves and Eather Color. Pure Whiskies, Gins and Wines. The best Cigars in the city

Everything kept in large quantities and we sell goods cheaper than any store in the city quality considered. 41 West Milwaukee St., Janesville, Wis.

nov5dt

CROFT & SIERER,

